FOREWORD

Statistics Canada is almost unique among federal departments and agencies in that the principal reason for its existence is to disseminate information as a service to the Canadian public. This is clearly spelled out in Section 3 of the Statistics Act which requires the Agency to "collect, compile, analyse, abstract and publish statistical information relating to the commercial, industrial, financial, social, economic and general activities and condition of the people".

The Agency's official publications are listed in its annual catalogue, the 1990 edition of which contains over 1,000 currently available titles, classified according to broad subject-matter areas. About a third of these are periodical publications of up to biennial frequency presenting summary results of recurring statistical programs. There is also an extensive range of publications based on the results of the 1986 Census of Population and Agriculture respectively, and some 100 occasional, or monograph, publications other than census. Most publications in the catalogue are priced and ordering instructions are included in the catalogue. Copies of the Catalogue may be ordered from any Statistics Canada Regional Office.

While the Statistics Canada Catalogue lists what might be called "mainstream" publications, the Agency has for many years consistently generated a small but significant quantity of supplementary documentation, in the form of technical papers and memoranda, discussion or working papers. The availability of this documentation is less well-known but, in principle, it is equally available to the public and has in fact been distributed by the responsible author divisions to users who have expressed an interest in it. The reason such documentation is not publicized and made available through the formal channels referred to above is that it is often of a tentative, transitory or speculative nature, its purpose being to report on progress, to invite further discussion, or to make available useful research findings which the Agency does not necessarily wish to endorse officially. Again, this kind of information may describe methodological or operational procedures at a level of detail going considerably beyond what is required for an ordinary understanding of the Agency's statistical outputs, and will thus be principally of interest to technically specialized clientele.

This publication lists departmental research papers which are not covered in the Statistics Canada Catalogue. The current edition is a revised cumulation which includes more than 400 new items and replaces and updates previous editions which should be discarded.

AVANT-PROPOS

Statistique Canada est presque unique en son genre parmi les ministères et organismes fédéraux, car son rôle principal consiste à diffuser des renseignements au public canadien. C'est ce que stipule l'article 3 de la Loi sur la statistique qui prévoit que l'Agence doit "recueillir, établir, analyser, résumer et publier des renseignements statistiques sur les mouvements commerciaux, industriels, financiers, sociaux, économiques et généraux, et sur la condition de la population".

Les publications officielles de l'Agence sont répertoriées dans son catalogue annuel, dont l'édition de 1990 comprend plus de 1,000 titres courants classés selon de grands domaines spécialisés. Environ le tiers de ces publications sont des périodiques qui paraissent à des intervalles allant jusqu'à deux ans et qui présentent les résultats sommaires des programmes statistiques à répétition. Il y a également une vaste gamme de publications fondées sur les résultats du recensement de la population et de l'agriculture de 1986 ainsi que quelque 100 publications hors série (monographies) autres que celles du recensement. La plupart des publications qui y apparaissent sont disponibles pour la vente. Veuillez vous référer au catalogue des publications pour connaître les directives d'achat. Une copie du catalogue pourra être commandée d'un des bureaux régionaux de Statistique Canada.

Le Catalogue énumère ce que l'on pourrait appeler les publications "régulières" de Statistique Canada, mais l'Agence produit depuis bon nombre d'années une petite quantité, mais une quantité tout de même non négligeable, de documents supplémentaires sous forme de rapports et mémoires techniques, de documents de travail. L'existence de cette documentation est moins connue mais, en principe, elle est à la disposition du grand public et a déjà été distribuée par les divisions responsables aux utilisateurs qui ont manifesté le désir de l'obtenir. Ces documents ne font pas l'objet d'une publicité et d'une diffusion par les voies officielles dont nous avons parlé plus haut parce qu'ils sont souvent de nature expérimentale, transitoire ou spéculative, leur objet étant de faire le point sur l'état d'avancement des travaux, de susciter des discussions plus poussées ou de faire connaître les résultats de recherches intéressantes que l'Agence ne désire pas nécessairement endosser d'une façon officielle. Soulignons que ces documents traitent de procédures méthodologiques ou opérationnelles à un niveau de détail beaucoup plus poussé qu'il n'est nécessaire pour comprendre les produits statistiques de l'Agence. Par conséquent, ils s'adressent avant tout à une clientèle spécialisée sur le plan technique.

Cette publication énumère les documents de recherche produits par le ministère et qui n'apparaissent pas dans le catalogue de Statistique Canada. La nouvelle édition est une liste cumulative révisée, incluant plus de 400 nouveaux titres, qui remplace et met à jour les éditions précédentes. Celles-ci devront être éliminées.
